

Market report for Tuesday November 19th

Slaughter cows were steady to $3.00 lower, with the exception to feeding cows which sold steady. The Heiferette trade was $5.00 lower with the majority of buyers having had filled their orders over the past 3 months. Light test on bulls. The tightening cattle numbers showed with cattle buyers in the seats readily buying yesterday. They were aggressive from the beginning to start filling loads. Our market compared to two weeks ago was noticeably higher. This is not to look past the fact that The Board of Live and Feeder Cattle has been climbing especially in the last 3 trading days.
